Approximately 50% of lupus patients have renal disease which can lead to irreversible renal damage, renal failure and the need for dialysis, \dots

read more